NETHERLANDS ANTILLES CONTINUED

Hans Timmerman, PB2T, President of the European DX Foundation (EUDXF), announced on the EUDXF Web page Tuesday, December 16th (edited):

> "According to Dutch Prime Minister Balkenende, important agreements to secure the future of the people on the Netherlands Antilles were made. During (another) Round Table Conference held on 15th December 2008 an agreement was signed on the future of the Netherlands Antilles. In 2009 more work has to be done on the execution of the agree- ments made. Depending on progress a date, will be set for the implementa- tion of the new structure. There is hope that all will be finalized in 2010. In 2005 it was agreed that Curacao (PJ2) and Sint Maarten (PJ7) will become autonomous countries within the Kingdom of the Netherlands and that the islands Bonaire (PJ4), Sint Eustatius (PJ5) and Saba (PJ6) will become Dutch municipalities. DXCC wise, these changes could result in deletion of two entities (PJ2 and PJ7) and four new entities: Curacao (with status aparte), Sint Maarten (with status aparte), Bonaire, Sint Eustatius and Saba."

NOW WAIT A SECOND! Those who like to be on time will have to wait a second for on New Year's Eve before ringing in the New Year on Wednesday. Read all about it at:
